WASHINGTONS EXCEL NEW YORKS IN BOTH

By Scores of 2 to 0 and 5 to 3 the Home Team Gets Double Dose of Defeat.

LATE RALLY SNUFFED OUT

Driven Liner Goes Straight to Fielder for Blighting Double Play.

The results in the American League yesterday didn't change the relative standing. but it made more of a race for first place between the Athletics and Washingtons. The champions beat the Bostons twice and the Washingtons beat the New Yorks twice. In the West the Browns won from Detroit, and the Clevelands bested Chicago in an extra inning game.

To-day's Schedule Washington in New York. Philadelphia in Boston. St. Louis in Detroit. Cleveland in Chicago.

The Washingtons excelled the New Torks yesterday in ginger, in the knack of doing the right thing at the right time and in winning ball games. Through superiority in the last named particular they went to the extent of taking two from the New Yorks. The first they won 2 to 0, and after a lull in the competition they set about winning another. The score of the second was 5 to 3. Any team that thinks it can come along here and shut out the New Yorks twice 1 one day is reckoning without its host. Neither game was especially eventful. and in neither could the New Yorks hit In one, the first, the Washingtons didn't hit much either, but in the second they spattered the immersed de livery of Ray Keating with much unre straint. They found Ray Caldwell more of a problem, but they made two run Shaw wasn't in any bad situations, but there were several times when, with men on bases, tremucousness on his part would have altered the aspect decidedly, but never a tremor by Shaw.

Joe Engel was generous in the second game, giving eight bases on balls in his five innings. As batters, however, the New Yorks were lamentably non-productive with near the second of suffice, because the Shaw stripling per

A hot liner bored straight to an infielder for a sure double play. That was one of the few times the Chancemen weren't troubled with psychological depression in the business of batting, and then they was downright tough luck. With two were repulsed.

The Washingtons made their runs in got to Cicotte for six hits and four runs. the first game by methods elemental but and stored the game away. acious. Moeller singled in the first scored both of their runs without the ai went to second when Maisel threw of a base hit, two bases on balls, a highester. He went to third when Mibatter, an infield out and a double ster out Foster. He went to third when Milan grounded to Williams. He went to the plate when Gandil laced a single to right. The very A B C of baseball tactics, nothing profound or "inside," simply hit the ball somewhere and get a man around. Shaw whaled a home run inteleft field eyrle in the third, just took a toe hold and clouted. Nothing could have been more primitive.

The fielding in the first game was neat and orderly by both teams, neat and orderly and at times snappy. In the fift and sixth innings the New Yorks had the sum of the field sixth innings the New Yorks had the sum of the first game was near and orderly sixth innings the New Yorks had the sum of the first game was near and orderly sixth innings the New Yorks had the sum of the first game was near and orderly sixth innings the New Yorks had the sum of the first game was near and orderly sixth innings the New Yorks had the sum of the first game was near and orderly sixth innings the New Yorks had the sum of the first game was near the fir

In the fift cand sixth innings the New Yorks had J five men on bases, but each advent of Steen.p... 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 a man at base was followed by an out on the part of the next hitter. The touring was too straggling to beget any-thing but disappointment.

The New Yorks ran into vigilant and exching in the second game when they the bases. In the second inning the bases, In the second inning assed the first two men. Walsh and Peckinpaugh hit in front of the d Alva Williams threw into the past Gandil. Moeller backed up that the backed up the bac pert fielding in the second game when they were on the bases. In the second inning Engel passed the first two men, Walsh and plate and Alva Williams threw into the ground past Gandil. Moeller backed up like a flash and headed off Peckinpaugh at second, Walsh, having died previously stealing. In the third Truesdale was passed and was doubled by McBride's celerity on and was doubled by Keating's grounder.

A brilliant running eatch by Walsh in the second and a rattling play by Trues dale on a ground ball in the third prefourth and prevented Truesdale from putting through a fine play, the second baseman having made a gem of a stop and a throw which Williams should have handled. But as Morgan would have been on second anyway of the second anyway of the second anyway of the second second anyway of the second base of the throw which Williams should have handled. But as Morgan would have been on second anyway, and as A. Williams singled, Morgan would have scored anyway. Peckinpaugh was transported on four balls in the fifth and with one out Truesdale, and he lashed over Milan's head. It would have been a two bagger had Peckinpaugh run with his head up. He thought Milan had caught the bail and backpedaled. Truesdale was driven back to first while Peck maker's welt scored Cook in the ninth and left men on third and first with none out. There were no reciprocal eccentricities of physics to help the New Yorks. Peckinpaugh met the ball and reversed it like a shot. Foster took the liner breast high, and passed the ball over to Gandil for a double play. There was still a slight chance left, but H. Williams filed out. The BATTERS OF PHILLIES

Big Inning Nets More Runs Than Giants Can Total Against Alexander.

The Giants were soundly trounced in Philadelphia yesterday, but no great harm was done as the Cincinnatis and Pirates both lost. The Cardinals disposed of the Reds and the Cubs put away the Pirates, who have lost nine straight, the worst slump of the season. The Brooklyns out played the tailend Braves.

To-day's Schedule. New York in Philadelphia (two games). Boston in Brooklyn. St. Louis in Pittsburg.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3 .- Al Demaree, who has been anything but a winning chance to-day to win a ball game, but before the third round was over he had to be derricked in favor of young Schauer, and the great handicap he inflicted upon the Giants during that inning gave the Phillies such a commanding start in the day's race that New York never could catch up, the locals winning easily by 10 to 3. The way Alexander hurled probably meant defeat anyhow for New York, for the big Nebraska farmer had everything in the pitching category. The Giants did not score until the seventh round and then it looked as if Alex simply eased up when he had an 8 to 0 lead. and the great handicap he inflicted upon lies on four solid pokes, two weird plays by Chief Meyers and two passes, tucked the game away before Schauer got rid of the third out and the ninth Philadelphian who batted in the inning. Demante had neither speed nor control during his short sojourn on the mound.

his best games of the year, but he re-ceived support which did not flash the semblance of a flaw. For six rounds the Giants drew ciphers, but in the seventh they broke their string. Doyle walked and took second on Robertson's hit. The latter had succeeded Murray in the sixth. Doyle geored on Snodgrass's hit. In the ed with a walk, then Burns singled and both scored on Grant's two base slam against the right field fence.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND.

Gandil had five assists, which is a good any for one day for a first baseman. many for one day for a first baseman.

Numerous hits were hits yesterday because the bail took a bad bound. There was an unusually large number of these. Maisel has the trick of nabbing foul files near the stand down finer than any third baseman that comes to the Polo Grounds baseman that comes to the Polo Grounds.
Truesdale's fielding was exceptionally good, and another thing this player does well is picking out balls at the plate. He has a splendid eye for a pitched ball.

Jeff Tesreau is the only Giant pitcher who has held the Phillies down in this series. They slammed Matty, among others, but it so happened that the New Yorks also slammed that day. also slammed that day.

A nifty pitching feat was performed the other day by Gallia of the Kansas City A. A. team. He struck out three men in succession on eleven pitched balls.

First one St. Louis major team, then the other, deals that stock joke about the St. Louis teams being jokes a staggering blow, and sometimes they land in concert.

A Hoston complaint is that there is only one worse base running club than the Boston club and that is the other Boston club.

TOO MUCH RUCKER IS DISASTROUS TO HUBS

Nap Makes Them Knuckle Down to His Southpaw Curves and Wields Bat. Too.

HIS TRIPLE TURNS TIDE

Clout Is Psychological One in Rally That Gives Dodgers Five Runs and Victory.

Too much Rucker made life miserable for Jim Gaffney at Ebbets Field yesterday afternoon but was a bonanza for George Stallings's tailor. The Big Chief wore out the trousers of his brand new summer creation, sliding from one end of the bench to the other and back again, while the Dodgers were hanging onto the Braves the fourth defeat of five starts within the past three days. Brooklyn won handily for its star southpaw by a score of 6 to 3. Rucker couldn't have been any meaner to Boston and especially to Dick Rudolph of The Bronx. A fellow who can pitch like Rucker is supposed to live on that line alone. He isn't considered very polite to a visitor when he breaks up a game for himself. But this is just what Rucker did. His triple in the fifth with two on was inserted at just the psychological moment to break Bronx Dick's heart. Before Chief Stallings could apply first aids to his malmed boxman, the carnage had continued to the extent of five runs for the Rucker has pitched better ball, but seldom less craftily. He brought his greatest cunning to bear only in the pinches. The score was tied at 1 to 1 when O'Mara singled in the fifth. He raced to third when Miller's Texas Leaguer bounced away from Mann. Here Rucker combed a beauty to the scorehoard. He could have beauty to the scoreboard. He could have made the circuit if he hadn't cared to save his wind for the last four innings. Maran-ville held Nap on third while he threw out Dalton, Hummel, who had hit safely twice, was passed, but Red Smith hit almost to the same spot of the scoreboard that Rucker found earlier and he had no diffi-

TEN DAY CLAUSE IS LEGAL, RULES COURT

Temporary Injunction Against Chief Johnson Made Permanent.

CHICAGO, June 3 .- Organized baseball gained a sweeping victory over its arch nemy the Federal League to-day through decision handed down by Judge George H. Foell in the Superior Court of Cook county. Judge Foell made permanent the Providence, June 3.—The Grays made it two straight over the Newark champions to-day, winning by a score of 7 to 5 after an uphill battle. Tutweller's homer with Bauman on decided the contest in the sighth inning. The area of contest in the sighth inning. returnable only in the State of Illinois, but steps will be taken at once by Chair-man Herrmann of the National Commission to enjoin the player in every Federal League city.

Judge Foell's decision upheld the absolute validity of the 1914 form of major of the State of Illinois are concerned. The chief point at issue was the ten days option of release clause. Federal League counsel held the ten days clause invalidated the contract because of inequity.

In Judge Foell's opinion, Johnson hed no claim to inequity. He signed the con-tract with Cincinnati after working under a similar one last year at a much lower salary. The clause in substance, it was pointed out, appears in almost every base-ball contract signed in the United States. Judge Foell could discover no evidence to prove that Cincinnati had employed any fraudulent methods of inducing the Indian to sign the contract.

The decision of Judge Foell is likely to thwart the Federal League in a proposed raid upon the two major and big minor leagues. The moral influence of the case may affect negotiations with the major league players who seemed willing to jump in case the decision had gone the

In the opinion of major league magnates in New York at the present time Judge Foell's decision will ruin the Federal League.

It also is believed in local circles that organized baseball now will seek injunc-tions against all former major league players with the Federals who violated contract or reserve obligations. An ap-peal by the Federal League from Judge Feell's decision is accepted as a matter ton Nationals, said last night that he would be willing to enjoin Jack Quinn if it was desired. But the Boston presi-dent is dead set against any sort of welcome to the deserters.

John Conway Toole, chief counsel of the National Commission, declared that the decision of Judge Foell was a complete vindication of the validity and mutuality of the present form of contract used by all clubs in organized ball. In the meantime Mr. Toole is not idling.

He has heard of the threat from Kansas City of George Stovall to play Johnson in every Federal League city except Chicago and is preparing at once to extend the scope of the Cook county injunction.

Brookfeds Angling for Exeter Boy EXETER, N. H., June 3.—There is a possibility that Capt. Benjamin Neal, the Exeter Academy first baseman, will not enter Brown University next fall as he intended, as he has received a flattering offer to join the Brooklyn Federals when he completes the season on Saturday afternoon in the annual game with Andoversity of the season of th
